Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Weak Women

No weak and ailing woman, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Mr. Bryan in Virginia.

In an interview in Roanoke last night William Jennings Bryan, after reading a newspaper article that stated that a story had reached this country from Hawaii to the effect that Mr. Bryan, on the occasion of his visit to the Hawaiian islands, two years ago, had advised the natives to assert themselves and by their power in msjority overthrow the whites, and asked if he would offer the same advice to the negroes of the South, declared there was no truth in the story coming from Hawaii and said he could offer no explanation for its publication.

"If the people have read my paper, the Commoner," said Mr. Bryan, "they know my views on the race question, which were very largely expressed at the time of the Booker Washington dinner at the White House."

Asked about the speech of John Temple Graves, in which the Georgia editor asked the Nebraskan to nominate Roosevelt for President, Mr. Bryan said: "I said at the Chattanooga banquet all that at present I can say. I said then, as at present advised, I cannot see that it is my duty to nominate Mr. Roosevelt. In both of my campaigns I stated that if elected I would refuse a second nomination. I have sought to secure a constitutional amendment making a president ineligible for a second term. I could not conscientiously urge the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt for a second term, even if there were no other reason."

Mr. Bryan said he didn't care to discuss candidates, but declared the outlook for democracy, which is always good, was never better than at present.

Mr. Bryan delivered an address at Danville last night under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy, talking to 2,000 people in the Academy of Music on "Travel Abroad." His daughter, Grace Bryan, who is a student at Hollins Institute, near Roanoke, met him at Roanoke yesterday. The meeting was very affectionate. Mr. Bryan had not seen his daughter since early last fall, when he accompanied her to Roanoke.

In an interview at Bristol Mr. Bryan said: "The President seems unduly excited over an alleged $5,000,000 fund raised by Wall street to prevent his re-election. If Wall street is opposed to any doctrine held by the President it is certainly not a republican doctrine. When we came up against the corruption fund in 1896 we found no more ardent champion of these special interests than Mr. Roosevelt."

The Alaska Packers Association furnish the government hundreds of thousands of cases of Salmon a year. Out of 240,000 cans examined by the government at Camp Thomas only four defective cans were found. This firm packs the Argo Red Salmon.

To Regulate Sunday Trains.

As the result of a conference in Lynchburg yesterday between representatives of the railways of the State and the interdenominational church committee, it was agreed that the railways will discontinue the sale of excursion tickets in Virginia, and that the State Corporation Commission shall regulate the operation of Sunday passenger and freight trains, the committee deciding that trains are necessary on Sunday. The matter of preparing a bill to be offered to the next legislature was referred to a subcommittee composed of Presidents Johnson, of the Norfolk and Western; Finley, of the Southern, and Stevens, of the Chesapeake and Ohio, and Rev. Dr. John J. Lloyd, Herbert H. Harris, and George E. Caskie, of Lynchburg. The bill will be prepared by Mr. Caskie and then referred to the railway presidents before going back to another conference to be held in the future. This agreement is the result of the efforts of Dr. W. W. Smith, chancellor of the Randolph-Macon system of colleges, who brought the question of Sunday trains before the Virginia Conference of the Methodist Church, the Virginia Synod of the Presbyterian Church, and the Council of the Episcopal Church. He is president of the commission named by these three religious bodies, and the meeting yesterday was the second held with the railway representatives.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklin's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists. 25c.

Charged with Killing a Woman.

The grand jury in the United States Court at Danville yesterday afternoon returned indictments against William E. Rakes and Grover Beamer, two young white men of Patrick county, for the murder of Ann Hall, an aged white woman, and for murderous assault on Jane Hall, her sister. Rakes has been arrested, but Beamer is at large.

The murder of Ann Hall was one of the most brutal crimes ever committed in the neighborhood of Danville. Ann and Jane Hall resided together in a cottage near Charity, about 30 miles from Stuart, with their nephew, Pete Hall, 18 years old. On Sunday night, March 24, a mob of men armed with shotguns, surrounded the house and riddled the building with bullets. Ann Hall, who was 60 years of age, was shot to death through the window while in a room attired in her nightclothes. Her sister, who is about 50 years of age, was shot in the arm, but was not fatally hurt.

From the first it was suspected that the mob was composed of men who operated illicit distilleries in Patrick county, and who were under the impression that the Hall family were acting as spies and informing the revenue officers of their operations.

Several days prior to the attack by the mob an illicit distillery had been raided, and it was suspected by the officers of being owned by Rakes and Beamer. Reports had also been in circulation in the neighborhood that Pete Hall had been aiding the government officers, and the general belief is that the shots were fired mainly for the purpose of getting him out of the way.

Owing to the fact that the murder was committed in an effort to kill a man who it is alleged, was an informer on violators of the revenue laws, the matter has been taken up by the United States courts. The State authorities had made a preliminary investigation of the case, but it is thought that the entire matter will rest in the hands of the federal government. So far as known no objection has been made to the trial of the case by the United States Court, which has superior jurisdiction. When Rakes was arraigned for a preliminary hearing he denied knowing anything about the killing.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. It's nice even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. United States Fleet in Storm.

Mail advices received in Norfolk from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where Admiral Evans' fleet of battleships was engaged in fleet maneuvers, tell of a terrific storm on April 2 and 3. The entire fleet was at the target grounds, about thirty miles from Guantanamo Bay, and for two days during the duration of the storm all of the fleet evolutions and target practice ceased. The waves washed over the quarterdecks of the vessel.

An incident of the storm was the rescuing of a seaman who was washed overboard from the battleship Virginia. At 1 o'clock in the morning, while the storm was at its height, a seaman on duty on the quarterdeck of the Virginia was knocked overboard by a heavy sea. The powerful searchlights of the vessel were turned on and the man was located struggling bravely for life. A life preserver was thrown to him and he was hauled aboard amid the cheers of his shipmates.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists, 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 13, 1907.

ALL PEOPLE with proper ideas will heartily commend Bishop Greer's decision in the case of the "slumming" curate whom, as stated yesterday, he has just deposed from the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The evidence that opinion among New York clergymen is unanimous in approving the Bishop's action indicates a healthy mindedness which in some former instances has seemed to be imperilled by the questionable fascination of "sociological" slumming. The Tribune says:

Although details of the evidence upon which Bishop Greer based his decision have not been made public, the real issue is clear without them. At bottom there were only two questions to be answered; the first related to the intentions of the "slummer," the second to his methods. Was he seeking accurate information or was he looking for excitement and sensational revelations? With these motives as alternatives he could not justly escape conviction of gross ignorance, tactless adventure hunting or both. It is impossible to believe that a New York clergyman, unless immoderately stupid, could expect to make even the most trivial "sociological" discovery by pursuing the methods which Mr. Mears pursued. In a city where settlement and slum work has been wisely organized and its efficiently administered a minister lacking the intelligence to employ the only adequate means of inspecting the submerged world surely lacks the intelligence to conduct a church. And if, on the other hand, he enters disorderly houses for the mere sake of adventure he lacks the dignity and judgment that every minister ought to have. Bishop Greer's decision is sound and will be salutary.

THE THAW TRIAL, which had been in progress nearly three months, has resulted, as many had predicted, in a mistrial. The pathetic story of Evelyn Thaw, dementia Americana, brainstorm and paranoia failed to appeal to a majority of the jurymen, who looked upon the killing of Stanford White by the prisoner as a premeditated murder. Five, however, looked through other lenses; hence a deadlock occurred, and there being no likelihood of it being broken, the jury reported its inability to bring in a verdict. This means another trial and the threshing over of all the disgusting facts and allegations which have polluted not only the precincts of the court building, but which have virtually permeated every civilized clime. The killing of White and the trial of the young man who slew him has doubtless attracted more world-wide attention than any similar murder that has ever occurred. The reports of the trial have been read with avidity by millions, and they are believed to have contributed greatly to the debauching of many minds, especially those of the young. The recapitulation of the evidence in all its gruesome details is to be deplored.

REPRESENTATIVE HAY, of the Seventh Virginia district, who is now in Washington, declares that the John Temple Graves proposition for the democrats to nominate Mr. Roosevelt is the most absurd thing yet proposed except possibly the story of the $5,000,000 conspiracy to defeat President Roosevelt and his policies and adds:

No republican President, no republican leader at any time has gone as far toward centralization of governmental power as President Roosevelt. That is an all-absorbing, all-consuming idea with him. No man so infatuated with personal power as he is could be otherwise. Is this the sort of thing to inspire a democrat to desire to support Roosevelt for another term and to promote his ambition to make a one-man government here?

Mr. Hay has well "sized up" the proposition which it is believed will die with its bornin.

"IT CAN never be denied, and it should never be forgotten," says Mr. Cleveland, "that the tariff is the father of the trusts. * * * American goods are cheaper abroad than at home. It is idle to talk of surplus stock and the like. The simple fact is the tariff puts into the hands of corporations a powerful weapon, wherewith to do injustice to our own people." That simple fact is pretty firmly lodged in the minds of the voters, and it is making democratic votes for next year. It should be remembered that the tariff reform issue elected Mr. Cleveland twice and that he has been the only democratic president since Buchanan's term.

"Peace is assured," cables Philip Brown, the secretary of the United States Legation to Guatemala and Honduras who has been at La Union acting as an intermediary between the Salvadorean and Nicarsguan governments. He says that the President of Salvador has accepted "the considerate proposition made through me by the President of Nicaragua for a peace conference at the port of Amapala between the two Presidents in person immediately on the surrender of Amapala." He also says that President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, expressed his grateful appreciation of the friendly attitude of the United States in behalf of peace in Central America.

It is probable that the peace conference will be held on board one of the United States war vessels which are now lying in the harbor of Amapala. While there are no details as to the character of the arrangement entered into between the two President's farther than they are to talk peace. It is considered quite likely that one of the requirements will be the recognition by Salvador of the new provisional government which has been set up in Honduras by President Zelaya as a result of the recent fighting. There is no confirmation yet of the report that President Bonilla, who fled to Amapala after his decisive defeat at Choluteca, has sought asylum on the United States ship Chicago, but it is accepted as true.

In its efforts to secure 120 male teachers for the Philippine Islands, places which pay at the start from $1,000 to $1,200 per annum, the bureau of insular affairs has already held two examinations through the Civil Service Commission. There are still upwards of seventy vacancies to be filled and a third examination is necessary. It will be held on May 1 and 2 and can be taken at any of the principal cities of the country. No women will be admitted to this examination except the wives, immediate relatives, or fiancees of men examined at the same time for appointment to, or already employed in the Philippines. It is possible that a few women will be appointed at $900.

The Speaker said that he was not aware of the fact that the President had selected a man for his successor in the White House.

Arrival of Stevens.

New York, April 13.—John F. Stevens, former chief engineer of the Panama canal, arrived today on the steamer Panama, from Colon.

Mr. Stevens said: "I retired on the best of terms with my fellow-workers, and I have nothing to add to what has already been published concerning the work on the canal. I shall go to Washington this afternoon. I have left the service for good after nearly two years of active work on the Isthmus. During that time I have never been ill. I shall take a rest for a time and in all probability I shall make a trip to Europe before taking up private matters with which I shall hereafter concern myself. I feel greatly flattered by the grand send-off given me at Colon, when over 3,000 employees of the canal gathered to bid me farewell."

Mattheson followed her down stairs, entered the dining room and immediately began firing. His three victims fell to the floor. He then put on an overcoat and started down the street, but was soon overpowered by police.

The Charge Against Hill.

New York, April 13.—The hearing of Frank W. Hill, Harriman's former stenographer, who sold Harriman's letter to Sydney Webster, in which the railway magnate told of raising money for President Roosevelt's election, was resumed today in the Tombs police court. The hearing was in the private examination room. Hill, who has confessed to selling the letter which created the recent political excitement and called from the White House the declaration that a $5,000,000 fund to defeat President Roosevelt's policies is being raised by his enemies, was represented at the hearing by former Magistrate Ommen. Assistant District Attorney Krotel represented the State and two of Harriman's lawyers were on hand to assist him.

Harriman was on the stand only about half an hour but in that time had warm words with Hill's attorney and refused almost point black to answer the lawyer's questions. When told by the court he could only refuse on the ground that it might tend to incriminate or degrade him, he sharply replied it would do neither, but he did not propose to answer. Assistant District Attorney Krotel, who conducted the examination for the State, came to Harriman's rescue with an objection which the magistrate sustained. Harriman identified the original of the letter and denied that he had given Hill authority to dispose of the original notes. The financier said he had dictated the letter to Bernare Miller on January 22, 1906, at the Union Pacific offices. This ended the direct examination. Harriman refused to answer certain questions in the cross-examination especially as to whom he read the letter after it had been prepared. The objections were sustained.

THE THAW CASE.

The long-drawn-out trial of H. K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, which had been in progress for the past 11 weeks, ended late yesterday afternoon in a disagreement of the jury, which had been out nearly two days. The jury was immediately discharged. The final ballot stood seven for conviction of murder in the first degree and five for acquittal on the ground of insanity.

Thaw was at once taken back to the Tombs. Application that he be released on bail will undoubtedly be made very soon, but it is regarded as almost certain that this application will be denied. District Attorney Jerome announced immediately after the jury's discharge that Thaw would be tried again, though not for several months.

At 4:25 the jury filed into the courtroom. Every eye in the courtroom was upon them as they passed down the aisle and into the jury box.

Three minutes after the jury arrived Thaw entered, followed, as usual, by a prison guard. He marched straight down the aisle, looking neither to the right nor left. His face was white, but impassive. His lawyers had already informed him that the jury had failed to agree.

At 4:30 young Mrs. Thaw entered from the witness-room. She looked pale and rather frightened. She had scarcely taken her usual seat when Mrs. Wm. Thaw followed by the Countess of Yarmouth, Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, Edward Thaw and Josiah Thaw entered. At the same moment Justice Fitzgerald entered from his chambers, while everybody in the courtroom arose.

In the meantime the lawyers had taken their seats.

Dan O'Reilly spoke to Harry Thaw's wife. She stepped forward and took a chair at her husband's side. She slipped her left hand into his right, and so they sat while Clerk Penney called the roll. That concluded, Clerk Penney said.

"The defendant will arise."

Then the clerk repeated the conventional formula.

"Jurors please arise. Defendant look upon the jurors. Jurors look upon the defendant. Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?"

"We have not, sir," said Foreman Smith.

At that the jurors sat into their seats again, while Thaw resumed his chair, and again took his wife's hand.

All this time the entire Thaw family had sat motionless. With one exception, they showed the utmost stoicism. The exception was the Countess of Yarmouth, who smiled in a pleased way when she heard Foreman Smith's announcement.

Justice Fitzgerald consulted some notes which he had before him and said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, I have kept you together for this long time for the reason that I deemed it my duty to do so as long as there was any possible hope of you being able to reach a verdict. I have arrived at the conclusion that this is now impossible to be expected, and I consulted with counsel representing the people and the defendant—the defense's counsel and the learned District Attorney—and I am going to discharge you from further consideration of this case, with the leave of the court and the public prosecutor and counsel for the defense consenting to such discharge."

"Correct," said Mr. Jerome.

"Yes, sir," said Mr. Hartridge.

"Then, gentlemen, you are relieved from further consideration of this case," declared Justice Fitzgerald.

Mr. Jerome began to make a remark to the court and the court reminded him that he had not asked that Thaw be remanded to custody. This request the District Attorney promptly made, whereupon Justice Fitzgerald said:

"The defendant is remanded."

Immediately the jurors rose and filed out of the box. Thaw did not look at them though some of them glanced down at him as they passed. Then he was taken out by the prison guard. In a very few minutes the courtroom was deserted save for an official or two.

All the Thaw women entered the pen and talked with Thaw. Thaw seemed in good spirits. Instead of being cheered up by the women he told them that they must not worry or fret, that everything would come out all right eventually and that he himself was all right. He was in such cheerful spirits that everybody left him except his wife, who stayed for a few minutes for a final chat. Then she went away with Lawyer O'Reilly and Thaw was taken back to the Tombs.

On the first ballot the jury stood eight for conviction of murder in the first degree and four for acquittal on the ground of insanity.

Some of the eight were willing to meet the four half way on a compromise verdict, but the four refused to alter the views they held.

The four favoring acquittal finally won over one of the eight who had believed Thaw guilty.

The evidence called for by the jury was at the request of this one juror, and the documents turned his vote to Thaw.

Six of the eight favoring conviction once voted for manslaughter, in an effect to reach a compromise.

Throughout the eight ballots four never wavered from acquittal, and one always voted for conviction. On the final ballot the lineup was seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

"This is the first statement since the disagreement, and the second and last statement today. I believe that every man in the jury possessing over average intelligence, excepting possibly Mr. Bolton, comprehended the weight of evidence and balloted for acquittal. All my family bade me good-by with courage. I trust, D. V., we may all keep well."
—HARRY KENDALL THAW.

"There is nothing that I can with propriety say about the trial. From what went on in the jury room, and the way the jurors stood, it appears certain that there should be a second trial. As to the date of that trial, there is no telling now. There are fifteen prisoners in the Tombs awaiting trial on the charge of murder in the first degree, and their cases will have to be disposed of in the regular course of events before we can get to Thaw again. It certainly will not be before fall. "As to bail, an application will, of course, be made, but I shall vigorously oppose the release of Thaw. Taking into consideration the number of jurors who voted to convict the defendant of murder in the first degree, I think it extremely unlikely that any judge would allow he application."
—DISTRICT ATTORNEY JEROME.

"Myself and four other jurors are of the honest opinion that evidence shows that the defendant was insane. Let no man impugn my motives."—WILBUR F. STEELE.

"I cannot understand it. On the evidence in the case I thought the jury would certainly bring a verdict of acquittal."—EVELYN THAW.

Juror Wilbur F. Steele, who voted for acquittal from the start, and during the deliberations of the jury acted as spokesman of that party, said that the first day, right after the jury began to consider the case, Juror Pfaff suggested that the proceedings should be opened with prayer. This was objected to by Juror Gerstman, on the ground that he was a member of the Jewish faith. Personally Mr. Steele said that he did not consider that a prayer was particularly appropriate on such an occasion, but he had no great objection to it. Finally Juror Gerstman said that he would consent to the proceedings being opened with prayer if he were allowed to say one of his own afterward. This programme was accordingly followed out.

In the jury deliberations Delphin M. Delmas' appeal to the unwritten law was absolutely discounted. The division was made clean on the question of the defendant's insanity or mental accountability, and the four men who from the first stood out for acquittal insist that the elements of evidence most convincing to their minds were Thaw's own letters, his will and codicil, his extraordinary communication to Anthony Comstock and their personal observations of his demeanor in court.

There was in the jury room a single leathercovered couch, which was used in turn for an hour or two at a stretch by the members. After a long weary vigil one of the men who stood unmoved for acquittal was stretched out there in slumber. Several members of the opposing faction, in an effort to resume the discussion, roused him and a lively altercation followed. The disturbed juryman announced that no possible consideration could lead him to change his views or to consent to any compromise verdict.

He was accused of being unreasonable, and before the quarrel quieted down half of the jurymen were talking at once in loud tones, and crimination and recrimination were bandied back and forth between the wornout men. One went so far as to shake his finger in the face of another and to say with an oath, "There are some men on this jury who are not above suspicion." The two jurymen had been particularly good friends during the progress of the trial.

Wilbur F. Steele, juror No. 9, said: "There was plenty of disparagement between the opinions expressed by the jurors. We considered insanity in many phases, but did not give the subject of wronged womanhood any lengthy debate; in fact, scarcely any. It was touched upon and quickly dropped. The question which was considered at unusual length was whether Thaw was insane at the moment he shot Stanford White, and whether at that moment he was responsible for his actions."

Juror Joseph B. Bolton said: "There was no question of the unwritten law or of 'dementia Americana' in our deliberations. We considered the case from a purely legal standpoint. We were not swayed by emotion. The jury, when considering the case, took no stock in 'brainstorms,'" said Juror George H. Fecko. "We did not pay an undue amount of attention to the testimony of the alienists, either," Mr. Fecke said. It was after Mr. Dennee had read some of Tnaw's letters that he decided that there was a reasonable doubt as to Thaw's sanity. Dennee then joined the four men who stood for acquittal on the grounds of insanity.

From statements made by several of the Thaw jurors after they had been discharged yesterday, it appears that the last twenty-four hours of their confinement were stormy in the extreme. On at least two occasions one of the men who held out for acquittal all but came to blows with one of the opposite party.

At one time the voices of the jurymen rose to such a pitch, and there was so much scuffling of feet and dragging about of chairs, that the officers on duty just outside of the door became alarmed and reported to Justice Fitzgerald that it sounded as if there was a fight going on inside. The judge at once instructed Capt. Lynch to enter the jury room and inquire if there was any trouble. Everything was quiet by the time he arrived, and he departed at once advising the twelve men on behalf of the court to manage their deliberations with less noise, inasmuch as already there were rumors going about that all was not well there.

From all that could be learned last night, a report that all of the Thaw lawyers except Daniel O'Reilly had been thrown over or would be thrown by the Thaw family, appeared to be correct. Lawyer O'Reilly said that, so far as he knew, he was the only one who had been retained for further proceedings. All through the trial there has been friction between the Thaw lawyers.

The Rough Riders Monument.

In memory of the Rough Riders who were killed in the Spanish-American war, a monument was unveiled yesterday afternoon in Arlington Cemetery. Addresses were delivered by President Roosevelt and Rev. Father Stafford, of Washington, as their theme the qualities of good citizenship and the resultant strength to a nation. The President said the paramount reason why our people should look back to the Spanish-American war with pride and satisfaction was that "it marked in very truth the complete reunion of our country. He said sons of men who had worn the blue and the sons of those who had worn the gray fought together and side by side with Young and Schafter and Lawton, and had served under Wheeler and Fitzhugh Lee; they "stood shoulder to shoulder, knit together by the closest of ties and acknowledged with respect to one another only that generous jealousy each to try to be first to do all that in him lay for the honor and the interest of the flag that covered the reunited country."

The Protestant Episcopal Church Congress, at New Orleans, yesterday, discussed the right of the preacher to discuss social questions in the pulpit.

Today's Telegraphic News

Thaw Will Apply for Bail.

New York, April 13.—A demand for the release of Harry K. Thaw upon bail pending a re-trial on the charge of killing Stanford White will be made probably on Monday. His attorneys were today preparing for this step. The prospects of having to remain in the Tombs until October or November, awaiting his turn for another trial has upset Thaw terribly, and every effort will be made to secure his freedom until he again faces the jury.

Thaw's family is prepared to offer bond in any sum to secure his release. Such a demand is almost unprecedented, but the defendant's attorneys are prepared to argue that the bail they will offer is prohibitive of an attempt to run away on Thaw's part, while the notoriety which has attached to his case would make it almost impossible for him to escape to any point of the globe where he could not be found or brought back. District Attorney Jerome will vigorously oppose the release of Thaw, and it is believed any justice will decline to accept bail. The indications are that Thaw will have to stay in the Tombs until his case is finally disposed of. Jerome is determined in view of the standing of the jury—seven for conviction to five for acquittal—to prosecute Thaw again.

Aside from its personal relations to Thaw the most important feature of the disagreement is its showing that "dementia Americans" has no standing under the laws of this State.

New York has rejected the "unwritten law." It is not likely that after Delmas' fiasco in attempting to foist it upon a New York jury the attempt will be repeated soon.

Every juror who will discuss the deliberation insists that the "justification plea" was utterly disregarded. Delmas' closing address therefore went wide of the mark.

Today the California barrister who was preceded across the Rocky Mountains by the glowing reputation of laurels he had won on the Pacific coast, stands discredited with New Yorkers. The five jurors who supported Thaw did so under the conviction that he was insane when he killed White. Had Delmas made his direct appeal for freedom for his client on the ground of insanity it is generally believed the jury would have acquitted Thaw.

When Thaw faces a jury again it is probable an entire new set of lawyers, with perhaps one or two exceptions, will represent him. These old lawyers, even if retained, will occupy a back seat. Thaw's relatives are disgusted with the bungling manner in which his case was conducted from the time Gleason made his opening address. Dan O'Reilly, it was stated, last night, is the only lawyer who has been retained.

It is believed Hartridge may be added to the number. As soon as the question of obtaining bail for Thaw is definitely settled, it is believed the other lawyers will be given their "walking papers."

Today the attorneys were vigorous in their denial that they had been released, but it is said that Mrs. William Thaw is determined upon a change.

It would not be surprising to see a switch back to the firm of Black, Olcott, Gruber & Bonynge, who originally took charge of Thaw's interests, but were dismissed by him because they insisted upon making a straight insanity defense.

The sensation of today in the Thaw case was the making public by Thaw's attorneys of a letter which they say was written to Harry Thaw by Howard Nesbit, brother of Evelyn Thaw, asking for the loan of $100 and swearing allegiance hereafter to the prisoner. The letter was delivered to Thaw in the Tombs yesterday, according to the lawyers. Young Nesbit shows he is in sore straits and even hints at suicide unless his brother-in-law repays the young man's desertion of his sister during the trial by the desired loan.

Delmas was closeted with Thaw for three-quarters of an hour today. He looked as if he had been engaged in a strenuous interview, with the prisoner. Later, he said to newspaper men that he had no statement to make. Delmas was reminded of the remark he made that he is still the attorney of Thaw and asked if he would repeat it. He only answered: "I have nothing to say one way or the other."

The women of Thaw's family were in worse condition today than the prisoner. Evelyn was almost a wreck. She had been counting on a certain acquittal. The thought that she will have to go through her ordeal on the stand again helped to unnerve her. Mrs. William Thaw was likewise nearly ill, and Mrs. Carnegie and the Countess of Yarmouth plainly showed their disappointment. It is understood the countess expects to sail soon for England to rejoin her husband. She has not decided whether she will return for the next trial.

It is said this afternoon that Thaw's counsel have decided to proceed by going before a Supreme Court justice in some other county and swearing out a writ of habeas corpus upon which to base a plea for the release of the prisoner under bail.

White Plains, N. Y., April 13.—A report was current today that District Attorney Jerome, of New York, in trying Harry Thaw again for the slaying of White, will seek a change of venue to Westchester county and try him there. There are four supreme court justices who hold court continuously in Westchester county, and this gives the county frequent court terms. If a change of venue should be taken here it is said Thaw's chances of a speedy trial will be greatly improved. The New York county courts would not be hampered in any way nor would the Westchester terms be inconvenienced. It is believed a jury can be secured here with less difficulty, too.

Rome, April 13.—Harry Thaw's proper place is an asylum. This is the opinion of his half-brother, A. Blair Thaw, who is spending the winter here with his wife and daughter. When sought for an expression in regard to the disagreement of the Thaw jury, A. Blair Thaw said: "The only opinion I have on the matter, and the one that I have always had, is that Harry Thaw should have been put in an asylum long ago for his own sake and for others' sake. I would have been unjust to convict him, because it is a pathological and not a criminal case."

New York, April 13.—A. Russell Peabody, partner of Clifford W. Hartridge, Thaw's counsel of record, this afternoon made the positive assertion that there will be no change among Thaw's defenders from disagreement. Mr. Peabody has just returned to his office from the Tombs, where he consulted with Thaw when he made the declaration. He declared positively there will be no change of the lawyers and that he had been advised by Thaw to make this declaration.

Sensational Reports.

London, April 13.—The greatest interest is being manifested here in a statement printed today by the Times, under a New York date line, intimating that an even worse scandal than that involved in the manner of trying Harry K. Thaw for the killing of Stanford White, is about to be developed. After quoting the remarks of several American newspapers on "the scandalous manner of conducting the trial," the article says: "There is cause to believe a worse scandal in connection with the case will develop, but on this subject nothing further can be said." The general opinion here is that this remark refers to the jury or to the lunacy commission which pronounced Thaw sane, and there is great curiosity to know just what the intimated scandal may be

Death of Former Governor Chamberlain

Richmond, Va., April 13.—Daniel Henry Chamberlain aged 72 years, republican governor of South Carolina in reconstruction days died today at the residence of Wm. C. Chamberlain, near the University of Virginia. He was a native of Massachusetts. He rendered his administration by refusing to appoint a negro politician on the Supreme Court bench in South Carolina.

United States Leads In Homicides.

New York, April 13. According to criminal statistics, the nited States leads all other countries in the number of homicid s per capita, while the percentage of convictions for murder is vastly lower than in any other nation. The average number of murders in the United States annually from 1885 to 1904, was 6,597. In 1895 the murders reached the high water mark of 10 662, and in 1895 there were 10,500. The percentage of conviction was 1.3, whereas in Germany, the convictions equalled 95 per cent. The above shows that in other countries there is not the reluctance on the part of the juries to convict for murder that there is in this country.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tub. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The McLeans.

The many friends of the late Anthony McLean, the genial warm hearted old gentleman known and loved by all during his long residence in our midst, will be glad to read the following notice of Mr. Boyez Dansard, who a few years ago married his granddaughter, formerly Miss Sallie McLean, daughter of the late Malcolm McLean. She with her brother and Douglas, son of the late Donald McLean, are the only survivors of a family once known as the "Happy family" of Alexandria.

Monroe, Mich., April 4.—Boyez Dansard, democrat, elected mayor by a majority of 134, was born in this city 38 years ago. He is the president of B. Dansard Son's State bank, and has been practically raised in the banking business, both his father and grandfather being well known bankers in this city and county. He was educated in the public schools and graduated from the local high school and most of the younger generation were schoolmates of his, which in a measure accounts for his popularity. The mayor-elect is an enthusiastic yachtsman and one of the board of directors of the Monroe yacht club. Mrs. Dansard, formerly Miss Sarah McLean, of Virginia, is one of the most popular young society leaders of this city.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

George Harper, charged with attempting to rob Wm. Jones and J. F. Henderson, was dismissed.

George Williams, arrested by Officers Knight and Lyles charged with vagrancy, was fined $5 and in default of payment will be sent to jail for twenty days.

Charles Lloyd, arrested by Officer Garvey charged with stealing canvas from a scow, was held.

Republican Committee.

The members of the republican committee of the Eighth congressional district met in Sarepta Hall this afternoon for the purpose of considering the advisability of calling a convention and nominating a candidate for Congress.

There were present H. P. Dodge, of Manassas, chairman; W. P. Graves and Joseph L. Cropper, of Alexandria city; J. B. Henderson and O. V. Gray, of Alexandria county; M. K. Lowry, of Stafford; W. B. King, of Loudoun; and and J. L. Strother and C. C. Middleton, of Fauquier county.

The meeting was held behind closed doors.

The committee was called to order about 1:30 o'clock by Chairman Dodge, with J. B. Henderson as secretary After deliberating about an hour it was decided to hold a convention in this city on the 27th of August.

Cameron Club.

Last night Miss Richards closed her series of talks for the season before the Cameron Club with a stereopticon lecture on Oberammergau. There was a large and interested audience and Miss Richards' treatment of the subject brought very vividly before one this lovely mountain home of the peasants, who consecrate their lives to these two plays —the Davidspeil and the Passion play. The life of David is emphasized as the type of David's greater son. Thus the one compliments the other. The theater was shown, affording as it does seating capacity for 4,000 people, and the enormous stage whereon can be grouped to advantage the large number of actors, that at certain parts of the play must assemble at one time. The Passion play will be given in 1910 but not for 28 years will Davidspeil be again reproduced in Oberammergau.

St. Mary's Church Notes.

Rev. William Sullivan, of the Paulist House of Studies, Catholic University, will assist at the services tomorrow in St. Mary's Church. The local clergy are fortunate in securing the assistance of this eloquent young priest who is always greeted with a large and attentive congregation whenever he preaches. The Paulist Order, of which Father Sullivan is a distinguished member, is the pioneer in the non-Catholic missionary field in the United States, their discourses always being of a doctrinal character never controversial. Father Sullivan will preach at the high mass and at the 7.30 o'clock vesper service. All are invited. Ushers will be in attendance to provide seats.

Personal.

Miss Margie Ramey is quite sick at her home on Royal street.

Mr. Thomas B. Murphy with his family has moved into the handsome residence on Duke street near Royal, which he recently purchased from the estate of the late W. F. Lambert, and has become a peramnent resident of this city.

Rev. Robert K. Massie, of the Theological seminary, will preach at St. Bartholomew's Church, Baltimore tomorrow morning. Rev. Page Dame is rector of the church

Dr. L. S. Greene has gone to Clarke county to spend a few days.

Rev. E. V. Regester, recently appointed presiding elder of this district, and his family have arrived here and taken apartments at "The Warfield."

Fined for Vagrancy.

An unkempt individual who gave his name as George Williams was brought before the Police Court this morning by Officers Knight and Lyles charged with vagrancy. It was alleged that he had been entering houses in the southeastern section of the city begging food and clothing. He was in some instances disorderly and it was charged threw a brick at a colored woman. Justice Caton fined the accused $5, and if he fails to pay the assessment he will serve 20 days in jail. Williams is said to be from Washington where he goes by another name.

Youth Held.

Charles Lloyd, a youth about 16 years of age, was before the Police Court this morning charged with being one of three boys who stole a canvass covering from a boat and sold the same for $1.04. Justice Caton concluded to hold Lloyd until arrangements can be made for placing him in an institution where he will be cared for. The boy's father and mother are dead, and for some time he has had no one to show interest in him and he lacks ability to care for himself. The police have warrants for the arrest of his two companions.

Accused Dismissed.

A young man named George Harper was brought to the station house late yesterday afternoon by William Jones and J. F. Henderson, all of Washington. Harper was charged with attempting to steal from the persons of the two men, the complainants alleging that the offense was committed in a saloon in the neighborhood of the station house. Harper was locked up and this morning he was brought before Justice Caton in the Police Court. Jones and Henderson failed to appear and the accused was dismissed.

For New School House.

At the suggestion of some of the teachers of the public schools a number of pupils of Lee School are circulating petitions among the citizens requesting them to ask the City Council or the School Board to secure another building for Lee School—white girls. The petitions state that Peabody building is not suited for a school building.

The Market.

The market this morning showed no noticeable change from that of last Saturday. An average number of country people and buyers was present. There was a slight increase in the offerings of green stuff, especially kale, which was lower in price. Eggs were firmer at 18 a 20 cents a dozen, and butter still sold at 30a35 cents a pound.

Euchre Party.

Mr. J. M. Hill entertained a number of his friends at a euchre party at his residence last night. The affair was enjoyable throughout. The prizes were won by Mrs. Samuel Bendheim, Mrs. F. M. Hill, Miss Ella Hill, Mr. F. M. Hill, Mr. Edward Shinn and Mr. Jas. Bayles.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty-three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists, 50c.

Mr. Carlin.

Colonel William C. Waite, a prominent young business man of the town of Culpeper, and a member of Governor Swanson's staff, was in the city Thursday and was a caller upon his chief at the executive department. Colonel Waite is a strong supporter of Mr. C. C. Carlin for the democratic nomination for Congress in the Eighth District, and is one of the Alexandria man's most active leaders in Culpeper county.

"I am firmly of opinion that Mr. Carlin will win by a safe plurality over the field," he said when seen at Murphy's that night. "We have gone over the field carefully, and we are satisfied that he will carry five of the counties of the district by enough votes, to win his fight. Of course, he will carry Alexandria city by a handsome majority.

"I believe that Carlin will lead the next highest man in Culpeper by at least fifty majority."

"Which one of the candidates do you regard as Mr. Carlin's strongest competitor?" Colonel Waite was asked.

"The winner has got to beat Ryan," was the quick reply.

"Gordon is strong south of the Rappahannock River, and he will almost certainly carry Louisa and Orange, but I look upon Ryan as Carlin's most dangerous competitor.

"I believe, though, that Carlin will get enough lead in Alexandria city to offset that of Ryan in Loudoun.

"This will start them into the rest of the district about even, and I am confident by the time they hit Culpeper, Carlin will be the winner."—[Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Charlotte Armstrong Falls, whose death occurred at Sibley Hospital, Washington, early yesterday morning, will take place from Christ Church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. Jas. Falls, of Washington, and Rev. W. J. Morton, and the pallbearers will be Dr. T. C. Smith, James Bowen and Chas. Kelley, of Washington, and Thos. W. Robinson, S. H. Lunt and Frank Marbury, of this city. The interment will be in Ivy Hill Cemetery, and will be private.

Men's Public Meeting.

All arrangements have been made for the men's public meeting at the First Baptist Church, under the auspices of the Men's League, on Monday evening next. Major Richard Sylvester, of Washington, will speak, his subject being "The Study of Men From My Point of View." The men's choir of the league will render several selections.

Pool Contest.

A pool tournament will begin Monday night at the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum for the championship of the organization. As there are a number of good players among the members, the contest promises to be interesting. The tournament will last one week.

The Weather.

The weather was cold again last night with rain and brisk winds at times. The temperature was about 45° at 7 o'clock this morning with indications of falling weather. About noon, however, the heavens became partly clear with a crisp northwesterly wind.

What Shall be Preached?

When the third day's session of the twenty-fifth annual Protestant Episcopal Church Congress opened in New Orleans yesterday morning the topic brought up for discussion was, "What Shall the Preacher Preach?" In a paper on this subject Rev. George R. Van de Watter, D. D., rector of St. Andrew's Church, o New York city, said: "Shall the preacher concern himself in his preaching with the social questions of the day? Yes, if he is capable of it to become such a faddist that he can preach about nothing else. How, indeed, can a man be a preacher and not be deeply concerned with the social questions of the day? Yet St. Paul was not forever harping about the incestuous Corinthians nor telling women in all occasions how to arrange their headgear when they went to church. Is the preacher to refer to current literature and the passing novel? (And how passing most novels are?) Yes, surely; but never let the congregation think that the preacher knows more about "The Call of the Blood' or "The Awakening of Helena Richie' than he does about the prophecy of Ezekiel or the gospel according to St. Luke."

Charged With Hugging Women.

"Are you a star?" asked Magistrate Sweetzer, when Joseph Stella, an artist, was arraigned before him in the Police Court in New York yesterday. "He's a star at hugging and kissing," replied Patrolman Vonderan. "He hugged four before I got him. The first three seemed pleased and giggled, looked back to see if there was any more coming. The fourth was a respectable married woman and she objected."

The magistrate remarked that the insulting of women on the streets of New York must cease, and held the young man in $300 bonds to refrain from indiscriminate hugging and kissing of women in public.

Russia Preparing for a Demonstration.

Advices from the Caucasus say that Russia is assembling a body of troops on the Persian frontier for a demonstration which, it is thought, will soon be necessary. Newspaper correspondents are not allowed to telegraph news of the movements of the troops, but it is known that 20 railroad cars loaded with artillery and three regiments of Cossacks passed through Kars on their way south last week. The Russian diplomats describe the condition of Persia as complete chaos, but they hope that the moral effect produced by the massing of troops on the frontier will be sufficient to enable the Shah to take the necessary steps to restore order without an actual invasion. The dissolution of the national assembly may be necessary.

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poison enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Guaranteed under the food and drugs act, June 30th, 1906. Serial number 1098.
